2023 · WHAT ISSUES SHOULD I CONSIDER IF MY SPOUSE HAS BEEN DIAGNOSED WITH A TERMINAL ILLNESS?

LOW ISSUES	YES	NO	ESTATE PLANNING ISSUES (CONTINUED)	•
o you and your spouse need additional cash flow now? If so, onsider the following: Accelerated death benefits or a life settlement on any life			> Do beneficiary designations need to be updated? Check to see if beneficiary statuses have been updated for all accounts, retirement plans, and insurance policies.
nsurance policies could provide access to proceeds during your pouse's lifetime. legardless of age, distributions from your spouse's retirement ccount could avoid a 10% penalty (if their doctor expects they			Do the titles of your accounts (investment and bank) need to be reviewed or updated? Consider adding TOD to any brokerage accounts, POD to any bank accounts, or titling accounts to a revocable living trust to avoid passing through probate.
vill pass away within 7 years). Distributions may also be repaid vithin 3 years. f there is group life insurance, an accelerated benefit rider may be available for terminally ill policyholders.	Are there digital assets that should be pre-		Are there digital assets that should be preserved? Steps should be taken prior to your spouse's passing to ensure that digital assets transfer to heirs.
Il your spouse need long-term care in a nursing home or me health care? If so, consider the financial impact it will have cash flow and assets. Consider Medicaid planning and reverse ortgages.	I have		Do you and your spouse own multiple properties? Ensure that residency is clear for probate purposes and consider titling out-of-state real property to a revocable living trust to avoid the potential for probate occurring in multiple states.
TATE PLANNING ISSUES	YES	NO	INSURANCE ISSUES	Y
pes your spouse need a new or updated Will and/or Trust? Des your spouse need new or updated General and Health	YES	NO	 INSURANCE ISSUES Can your spouse take steps now to plan for Medicaid? If so, remember the look-back period is generally five years from the date of Medicaid application. 	Y [
bes your spouse need a new or updated Will and/or Trust? The syour spouse need new or updated General and Health are Powers of Attorney and a Living Will? The Powers of torney will allow your spouse to designate a representative in the			 Can your spouse take steps now to plan for Medicaid? If so, remember the look-back period is generally five years from the date of Medicaid application. Does your spouse have any long-term disability insurance or life insurance? If so, consider the following:
bes your spouse need a new or updated Will and/or Trust? The syour spouse need new or updated General and Health are Powers of Attorney and a Living Will? The Powers of torney will allow your spouse to designate a representative in the ent of incapacity, and the Living Will expresses end-of-life wishes. A gift tax exclusion amount ($12.92 million, if no lifetime			 Can your spouse take steps now to plan for Medicaid? If so, remember the look-back period is generally five years from the date of Medicaid application. Does your spouse have any long-term disability insurance or 	[
TATE PLANNING ISSUES bes your spouse need a new or updated Will and/or Trust? bes your spouse need new or updated General and Health are Powers of Attorney and a Living Will? The Powers of torney will allow your spouse to designate a representative in the ent of incapacity, and the Living Will expresses end-of-life wishes. ill your spouse's estate exceed their remaining federal estate ad gift tax exclusion amount ($12.92 million, if no lifetime see), or will your combined estates exceed your remaining ombined exclusion amounts ($25.84 million, if no lifetime see)? If so, consider strategies to plan for a possible federal estate is liability.			 Can your spouse take steps now to plan for Medicaid? If so, remember the look-back period is generally five years from the date of Medicaid application. Does your spouse have any long-term disability insurance or life insurance? If so, consider the following: Your spouse may be able to elect the "disability waiver of premium."

2023 · WHAT ISSUES SHOULD I CONSIDER IF MY SPOUSE HAS BEEN DIAGNOSED WITH A TERMINAL ILLNESS?

INSURANCE ISSUES (CONTINUED)	YES	NO	ASSET & DEBT ISSUES
 If your spouse is eligible for Social Security Disability Benefits, will there be a need for health insurance? If so, remember that your spouse must be receiving benefits for two years before becoming eligible for Medicare, if under age 65. Will the illness prevent your spouse from working? If so, reference the "Do I Qualify For Social Security Disability Benefits?" flowchart to see if your spouse is eligible for benefits. 			 Will there be any debts that will be due upon death (commercial loans or medical expenses) or will any debts be discharged upon death (student loans)? Does your spouse have any stock options, grants, or restricter stock units? If so, consider planning opportunities and how these assets will impact your tax liability and your cash flow planning.
			Will there be expenses that require you to sell any investments?
TAX PLANNING ISSUES	YES	NO	Did your time horizon, investment objectives, or risk tolerance change?
Do you need to determine whether medical expenses will be deductible? If so, your spouse can deduct unreimbursed medical			If your spouse is a business owner, do they have an exit strategy or a succession plan?
expenses that exceed 7.5% of AGI, which includes: transportation to healthcare appointments, modifications to a home or car for medical reasons, privately hired in-home healthcare employees,			If you have annuities or illiquid assets, do they need to be reviewed to understand options?
and possibly LTC insurance premiums (limited based on age).			Do you own taxable investments with an unrealized gain? If so, consider gifting them to your spouse so that you receive a
Will unreimbursed medical expenses exceed your taxable income? If so, consider doing a Roth IRA conversion to take full advantage of the medical expense deduction.			step-up in basis at their death, if their death occurs more than on year after the date of the gift.
> Is there a capital loss carryforward on your tax return attributable to your spouse? If so, consider selling an asset at a			Could there be pensions and/or employer retirement benefit that you may be forgetting?
gain to offset the carryforward loss. Your spouse's carryforwards can be used on their final tax return, but will be lost thereafter.
Are there any unrealized tax losses in an account owned by your spouse? If so, consider harvesting the unrealized losses or consider gifting the asset to preserve the loss and avoid the step-down in basis.			OTHER ISSUES Are there any state-specific issues that should be considered (including out-of-state property or estate tax liability)? If so, some states have unique rules that can have a material impact, such as a liability for the surviving spouse to pay for the expenses

ASSET & DEBT ISSUES	YES	NO
> Will there be any debts that will be due upon death (commercial loans or medical expenses) or will any debts be discharged upon death (student loans)?
Does your spouse have any stock options, grants, or restricted stock units? If so, consider planning opportunities and how these assets will impact your tax liability and your cash flow planning.
> Will there be expenses that require you to sell any investments?
Did your time horizon, investment objectives, or risk tolerance change?
If your spouse is a business owner, do they have an exit strategy or a succession plan?
If you have annuities or illiquid assets, do they need to be reviewed to understand options?
Do you own taxable investments with an unrealized gain? If so, consider gifting them to your spouse so that you receive a step-up in basis at their death, if their death occurs more than one year after the date of the gift.
Could there be pensions and/or employer retirement benefits that you may be forgetting?
OTHER ISSUES	YES	NO
> Are there any state-specific issues that should be considered (including out-of-state property or estate tax liability)? If so, some states have unique rules that can have a material impact, associated with the illness of the spouse.

Disclaimer

Financial Journey LLC is a registered investment advisor offering advisory services in the states of Florida, Alabama and Virginia and in other jurisdictions where exempted. Information provided herein is for information purposes only and not, in any way, to be considered investment advice.

Shea Newton, President

shea@financialjourneyllc.com | 202-731-1266 | www.financialjourneyllc.com